

Our President's Message

Happy New Year! I hope the start of this year finds you and your loved ones healthy and happy. I wanted to take this time to thank all of you who participated in the collection of toys for the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve Toys for Tots program. Twenty-six of our communities across the U.S. participated and collected thousands of toys for this program that brings holiday joy to more than seven million disadvantaged children each season. Hunt is proud to support this holiday tradition, and we're grateful for your generosity. As we enter the new year, we are partnering with the American Red Cross to help address the critically low blood supply levels. If you are healthy, we encourage you to consider donating blood. For those who have recovered from Coronavirus, donating your plasma can help up to 4 coronavirus patients in need. For other ways you can help, go to www.redcross.org. Watch for information on mobile blood donation locations in January and February within our communities.

Best,

John Ehle

Trivia Whiz Get to Know Mistletoe

Mistletoe is much more than a cluster of berries that inspires the courage to kiss. Mistletoe is actually a parasite, stealing the nutrients it needs from the tree it grows on. Its berries can cause illness, so be sure to treat real mistletoe with caution. Here are some other facts to know about mistletoe;

There are two types of mistletoe. The one we see most often around the holidays is native to North America and grows on threes in many parts of the U.S. The other type is of European origin.

- The mistletoe infestation can kill the host tree. Some trees species though, seem to be resistant to the so-called charisma of this partial parasite. Bradford flowering pears, sycamores, redwoods and cedar trees are rarely infested.
